THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM

Senators Falk and Thurston Will Give Their Views.

CABINET TO RECEIVE REPORT.

Report to be Cabled to Spain and Indemnity Demanded—Report and Answer Goes to Congress.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, March 23—The following is the administration's program for settlement of the Cuban question: Senator Falk will today give the senate an account of his observations in Cuba. Senator Thurston will give his views tomorrow.

Friday the official report will be discussed by the cabinet and the president will cable the report, or its conclusions, to Minister Woodford with instructions to lay it before the Saguasta cabinet and demand indemnity, the amount of which is to be determined Friday.

On Monday the president will submit to Congress report of court of inquiry together with Spain's answer which he hopes to receive from Minister Woodford in the meantime. Within the next forty-eight hours the president will send another message to Congress declaring that the United States must intervene in Cuba on humanitarian grounds and that vessels containing relief supplies, properly guarded, will be dispatched to Cuba.

Epworth League Notes.

Communicated.

The members of the Epworth League of St. Matthews M. E. church and their many friends spent two days with Rev. I. Garland Penn, the assistant general secretary of the Epworth League.

Rev. Mr. Penn preached to the Epworth League and friends to Christian work Sunday afternoon at St. Matthews.

Monday was spent at Bennett college in Epworth League work. All the Leagues of the "Greensboro District" was well represented. In the evening Prof. J. P. Morris delivered an oration on:

"My Vision of the International Epworth League Convention held at Toronto."

The true sense contained in this address is worthy of note. The "Practical Address" by Secretary Penn was philosophical throughout.

Monday night in the chapel at Bennett college the members of St. Matthews Epworth League gave a concert to a crowded house, rendering "The Jolly Farmers," which was carried out with success.

Tuesday evening the members of the East Greensboro League gave a reception in honor of Mrs. Penn at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hall.

Mr. Penn leaves tonight for Atlanta. He says he is proud of Greensboro and her people.

Prof. R. W. S. Thomas deserves praise for the success achieved by the Greensboro League.

MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES.

Several New Ones to be Located Here.

Their Value to Greensboro.

We have been reliably informed that several manufacturing concerns have decided to locate their plants in this city. This is good news and every citizen of Greensboro and Guilford county should rejoice that these men have selected Greensboro as the place best suited in which to locate their several businesses.

Perhaps no other one thing is so potent in building up and helping a community as is a manufacturing establishment. The manufacturing enterprises of the New England states have been largely instrumental in increasing the wealth of that section and in making this country known the world over as a nation of energy, thrift and enterprise. What has been done in the north and east can be as easily, if not more easily, accomplished here in the south where labor is cheaper, cost of living less, access to the raw material better than they are in the north. An authority on such matters some years ago stated, after thoroughly investigating the matter, that one county in North Carolina alone possessed more available water power than all the New England states combined.

The Whitsett band made music for the commencement exercises of J. V. Dick's school, near here, which closed on March 17.

Rev. Brown and daughter visited friends near here last week.

Mr. J. C. Moore left for Greensboro last Friday.

The baseball team has been organized and will play Burlington next week.

Mr. E. B. Parrish, of Durham county, has been elected chief marshal for the commencement exercises which will be on May 18.

That was a most beautiful wedding last night at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Lindley, at Pomona, a few miles west of Greensboro, when Miss Mattie Cook and Mr. Gurney Boren were happily united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was beautifully and impressively performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. S. D. Stamey, of Guilford College.

The couple stood in the front hall while ceremony was performed. Just above the contracting parties was the beautiful monogram, "C. B." Beautiful garlands wended their way from side to side, from corner to corner, meeting in the center of the hall immediately above the heads of the happy lovers.

The bride carried a lovely bridal bouquet of spuria japonica, lily of the valley, La France and bride roses, with long satin ribbon.

Miss Carrie Smith, of Summerfield, beautifully rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Miss Sallie Cook, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bride's attendants were Misses Myrtle Cook and Eva Van Lindley, nieces of the bride. Misses Mary Van Lindley and Gozal Hunt carried the hassock. Mr. Zeb Conyers acted as best man.

After the ceremony an elegant reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Van Lindley in honor of the newly wedded, and about 125 guests from Greensboro, Winston, High Point and other places.

The bride was attired in a tan going away suit, combined with cherry silk and cut steel, with cream lace, and was the picture of purity and loveliness.

The happy groom appeared in a black Prince Albert suit.

Immediately after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Boren left on the 10:30 vestibule for Washington, returning by New York Stock exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade:

PSALMODIC POLITICS.

A well organized machine is not to be beaten by mere speech making, however eloquent and convincing. In the field of political effort he who would rise must organize—just like the machine.—Philadelphia Record.

The above paragraph is evidently called forth by the gubernatorial campaign now on in Pennsylvania. It is a significant utterance. While ostensibly democratic, the Record has been all the while supporting the candidacy of John Wanamaker. Mr. Wanamaker is making a fight on the Quay machine which has been in control of republican politics in Pennsylvania for a number of years.

The Record points out to Mr. Wanamaker that the only way to beat the Quay machine is with a Wanamaker machine. And the Record is right. That is political history. The so-called reform organizations are the worst bosses ridden of all political organizations. If the psalm-singing Mr. Wanamaker would be governor of Pennsylvania he must resort to the same tactics as the rather naughty Mr. Quay. We have had a taste of "reform" in North Carolina. We know just what it is worth. We know that the reformers, while raising the cry of machine, are themselves more absolutely controlled by a machine than any other political party. The cry of machine has become about the most stale piece of demagoguery in contemporary politics. Not only does it no longer deceive sensible men, but has about ceased to hoodwink those whose claim to that title is somewhat dubious.

The Minnesota man who accepted the challenge for Senator Mason to fight a duel with a Spanish editor, doubtless understood beforehand how small was the risk attached to that vicarious piece of bloodthirstiness.

Judging from the antics of the reichsrath, his imperial majesty, Franz Joseph, of Austria, will not need to meddle in the American-Spanish imbroglio in order to work off his spare time.

With the Michigan legislature in session the aggregated Kentucky solons can rest on their oars and point to the shining streak they left behind them. Somebody else will furnish amusement for the country.

The populists in North Carolina would rather fuse with republicans than democrats for the very simple reason that most of them were formerly democrats. They can never forgive the democratic party the wrong they did it in deserting and betraying it into the hands of the enemy.

Mr. Pinkerton, who has a detective bureau in Chicago, grows red in the face while denying that Spain has employed his agency to furnish information concerning coast defences. Really Mr. Pinkerton has need to use emphasis. There is a very widespread belief in this country that in Mr. Pinkerton's bureau the old adage about catching a thief finds complete exemplification.

Rockingham, Richmond county, it appears, is to build a new cotton mill that will double the manufacturing capacity of the town. Evidently the state and the south are beginning to awaken to their latent possibilities. There is no reason why a decade hence the south should not control the domestic market in cotton fabrics.

It may be just as well to say that when the report of the board of inquiry is actually given in we are likely to know it and when it is given out we are likely to know what is in it. It is really a pleasure to know that it is possible even yet for some people to keep a secret.

General News in a Nutshell.

It cost $55,000 for coal to take the British cruiser Powerful out of China.

Such is the destitution in Crete that the sailors on her Britannic Majesty's warship Anson are sewing warm petticoats for the needy.

Englishwomen are making vigorous efforts to secure smoking compartments for women on railroad trains, according to the London Daily Mail.

Mrs. Hickson, who died at the age of 103 in Ireland recently, was married in 1813, and was probably the last woman in the United Kingdom whose wedding took place before Waterloo.

Lord Charles Beresford has dared the Admiralty to give the Belleville boilers a real test by speeding the new cruiser Diadem across the Atlantic under its full steam of 12,500 horsepower.

French postoffice employees are between the devil and the deep sea. They have just received an order first forbidding them to read postal cards and next directing them not to allow insulting or libellous postal cards to pass through the mails.

A dutiful German son advertises in the Leipzig Tageblatt: "Marriage—I seek for my father, a strictly respectable man with a quiet business, an elderly, solitary widow or maiden with some property in cash. Address with a statement of conditions."

Trarbach on the Moselle wants a volkslied, celebrating the Moselle wines. It offers a prize of 1,000 bottles of the best 1893 and 1895 vintages, and in case the words and music of the song selected are by different persons will divide the prize equally between them.

Wordsworth's "Tale of Goody Blak" should be translated into German. The Prussian authorities at Alt-Landsberg have just sent a 99-year-old widow to jail for three days for stealing four small sticks of wood. It was the first offence the woman had ever committed.

Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India, has reported the losses up to date on the Indian frontier to the House of Commons: Forty-four British and nine native officers, with 136 British and 320 native men have been killed. The wounded comprise 93 British and 36 native officers, with 400 British and 845 native men, while 10 British officers and 250 men, with 220 natives of all ranks, have died of disease.

A queer lawsuit is before the Munich courts, where an actress in the Deutches theatre, who married recently, sues the proprietor for her salary in spite of a clause in the contract stipulating that "a member of the theatre who marries without permission of the director forfeits all claim to salary." She pleads that as it was the director himself that she married the court must infer that she had his permission and consent.

Got $2200 on Bogus Inquests.

New York, March 21—For having collected while in office $2200 for bogus inquests which he had recorded, ex-coroner Edward B. Coombs, of Kings county, was sentenced today to one year and seven months' imprisonment in the penitentiary and also to pay a fine of $1000.

Later Judge Hirschberg granted a certificate of reasonable doubt, the order being returnable on March 28.

Spanish Diver's Wife Jailed.
Havana, via Key West, Fla., Mar. 20.—The wife of Diver Barquin, who was represented to have placed a mine under the Maine, and who was killed while under water, has been placed in the Aldecoa Hospital. The authorities say she is crazy, but she is continually saying she is not.

Negro Lynched.

Atlanta, March 22—John Callow, a negro, was lynched near Round Mountain, in northern Alabama, last night.

Piebalds Also.

The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle gravely observes that "winning race horses are generally bays, chestnuts or browns, and for every hundred bays among them there are fifty chestnuts and thirty browns. There is no record of an important race being won by a piebald."

Beloved, you are a mile behind. In the Old North State forever there is a piebald breed that can outrun honesty, truth and justice, hands down. These piebalds take no training, either; they are born runners. They ran into office and now they're running the state. You've never heard of Daniel L., have you, who runs against railroad trains, or Romulus Z., who was content to outrun a mule? Then we boast of Charles Henry, who runs on wheels, and Senator Butler, who runs the governor; Otho, run out, and several who might well be run in. Better post yourself before you deny that piebalds can run.—Charlotte Observer.

NEARLY A FIRE.

Asheboro Had a Narrow Escape Last Night.
Correspondence Telegram.

Asheboro, March 23.—Asheboro came near being the scene of an immense conflagration last night. Some men who had been in attendance upon court now in session were lodging in a large barn formerly used as a livery stable, which is situated on the corner near the residence of Prof. E. P. Menendhall and the large carriage shops of Hugh J. Burns & Bro. It is supposed they were smoking, were careless with matches and in this way the fire was started.

Despite the efforts of many citizens who had gathered to lend all possible aid to extinguish the flames, the barn and J. H. Wright's smith and repair shop were destroyed.

We learn there was no insurance, but the loss, however, is small. The proximity of the fire to other large and important buildings occasioned much uneasiness on the part of the town, which is to be congratulated that one of its choicest residence streets is not in ashes this morning.

A Narrow Escape.

The Telegram came very near losing its collector this morning. He went out to run down an item and was going at a 2:20 clip, on a wheel, when he ran afoul of half a dozen tobacco wagons. His "steed" became unmanageable and down they went. The wagons ran over the wheel and reduced it to scrap iron. Benny escaped injury by sliding into a mud hole, from which he was later rescued.

Judge Dick Returns.

Judge Robert P. Dick, who for the past two months has been under treatment at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, returned to the city this morning, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. R. M. Douglas. While in the hospital the judge underwent a very difficult and dangerous surgical operation, which was entirely successful, and though still weak, is very much improved in general health.

Every one looks anxiously for the war news. Will there be war or will there not be, and if there should be, will goods "go up" to "war prices"? We don't know but we have a large stock of everything the housekeeper, farmer, and merchant need, so we, as well as Uncle Sam, are prepared for war.

—o—

"What's all that racket going on over there?" asked the new arrival in Oklahoma.

"Hangin' a man for stealin' a wheel," replied the old timer.

"Isn't that a pretty sev're punishment for a slight offense?"

"Slight?" Why, stranger, it was a '98 model."

(Must have been a Crawford.)

Cheap Enough:

But we have Crawfords even cheaper, of the highest grade, though not quite up to the '98 model in beauty of design.
